JURY GETS PROHIBITION MURDER CASE THIS MORNING HARBOR CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

DEFENSE RESTS ON TESTIMONY OF THE STATE

Murder Charge Against Czekiel Dismissed On State's Motion

Final arguments of the defense and prosecution were closed in the court of Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado late yesterday afternoon in the case of Joe Agrella, Homer Lusk, Stanley Czekiel and Joseph Cambra, on trial for the slaying of Joseph Mamola, 23, Alameda county, under a charge of premeditated murder in Richmond, April 13. The jury will retire this morning at 10 o'clock.

The charges dismissed. Judge Alvarado yesterday afternoon dismissed a charge of murder against Stanley Czekiel, one of four on trial in his court for the death of Joseph Mamola, under cover prohibition agent, but declined to dismiss complaints against the other three defendants, Joe Agrella, Homer Lusk and Joseph Cambra.

With the court's action defense attorneys announced they would not present any testimony and the court directed that arguments start immediately.

Defense attorneys asked dismissal of the charges against all defendants, but the motion was denied by Judge Alvarado. At the court's suggestion Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey moved for dismissal of the charge against Czekiel and the motion was granted.

No Defense Testimony. The action of the defense in not presenting any testimony and its decision to rely only upon testimony that had been put in by the prosecution case as a surprise.

First arguments were made by Hoey and Attorney T. D. Johnston. Deputy District Attorney J. F. Hoey yesterday presented in evidence.

Assessments In County In Gain By Over 3,375

Contra Costa property assessments this year total $1,434 an increase of 3,375 over last year according to a tabulation made yesterday by Tax Collector M. W. Joost. The greatly increasing number of assessment Joost declares results from splitting up of large acreages and development of new residential areas in many sections of the county.

The assessment total announced by the collector represents property only and does not take into consideration assessments for sanitary, lighting, fire and other districts.

MAKING AUTO PAYMENT EASY

If you wish to reduce the size of the payments you are making on your car, you can arrange to refinance the contract if your equity is sufficient to give ample security. The way to proceed is to frankly lay the cards on the table, state your situation exactly as it is. The Buyers Guide on the classified page will point the way.

To Prison?

THAT MAY be the fate of Dorothy Mackaye, wife of Ray Raymond, actor, who was slain in a fight with Miss Mackaye, is alleged to have conspired to conceal the cause of death. The charge carries a penalty of from 1 to 3 years in the penitentiary.

'DOT' MACKAYE IS NONCHALANT

(By Universal Service) LOS ANGELES, June 30.—Dorothy Mackaye made her first appearance today in a part that may have a longer run than any other she has ever portrayed.

Garbed in the regulation prison costume of blue denim, the former stage celebrity, who is waiting sentence for covering up facts about the death of her husband, Ray Raymond received callers at the county jail.

Dress Is Concern. "How do you like my new dress?" Miss Mackaye asked, whirling about on her toes so that black silk stockings and black satin pumps flashed inconsistently beneath the unstarched jail uniform she referred to.

Five Implicated In Actor's Death Seek Pardon

(By Universal Service) LOS ANGELES, June 30.—The mercy of Governor C. C. Young was sought today for three women and two men sentenced to San Quentin for from one to ten years on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Tom Kerrick, Hollywood cowboy actor.

Last minute confessions were made by Iris Burns and Anita Davis to Probation Officer Holland. "Sarah" (Mrs. Kerrick) shot him," the two girls declared. They said they wanted to save other members of the party from prison.

E. B. BULL TO HANDLE FIGHT IN BOND ISSUE

Richmond Agencies Lend
Support; Committee
Ready For Work

As the result of the meeting of the committee of 100, and the advisory committee of ten, appointed to carry on the campaign for the harbor bonds, held at the Chamber of Commerce last night, E. B. Bull was selected as the principal campaign manager, and these present promised him their united support in aiding to make the campaign a success.

So far as these present were concerned there was no difference of opinion as to the necessity of voting a bond issue of $640,000 for the improvement of the harbor, and for providing additional cargo buildings.

After the inner man had been satisfied with the banquet that was served, the meeting was called to order by Charles S. Renwick, who acted as chairman of the evening. He carried out his duties with great success, and the spirit that was manifested was contagious.

Renwick Presides. "We are here tonight," said Chairman Renwick in opening the meeting. "In response to the call that was sent out to ten of your citizens, who met and selected a committee of 100 to carry on the harbor bond campaign. This is a most representative gathering."

Carquinez Golf Club Maps New Improvements

A program for improvements on the course of the Carquinez Golf Club was outlined at a meeting of nearly 100 members of the organization last night at the clubhouse near Giant.

Members of the club will each be assessed $25 to pay for the improvements, which will include work on the approaches and the greens. The work will be started at once and will be in charge of a committee headed by B. L. Harlow. Assessments are to be paid immediately. It was announced at the session last night.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. U. S. Abbott. Arthur A. Alstrom is secretary of the club. The directors of the organization met early in the evening in a short business session.

Federals To Ignore Wisconsin Bid For 2.75 Per Cent Beer

(By Universal Service) WASHINGTON, June 30.—Prohibition officials will ignore the law passed by the Wisconsin legislature purporting to authorize a 2.75 per cent beer in the state, it was declared at the treasury today.

Although symptoms of growing resentment for modification, the measure was described by the leaders as a "gesture." The Volstead act still will apply in Wisconsin, it was pointed out.

Lent Spirit!

C. S. RENWICK presided at the meeting of public minded citizens who mapped ways and means last night to make Richmond's harbor bond election a success. Renwick's able presentation of the problems that must be met, added greatly in getting the campaign program under way.

Landing Made Near Mouth Of Seine As Fog Confuses Aces

CONTINENT WIDE HUNT FOR FLYERS
ENDS: "AMERICA'S" CREW SPEEDS
ON WAY TO PARIS FETE

PARIS, July 1.—Commander Richard Byrd and the three men who accompanied him on his trans-Atlantic flight are safe!

They were forced down in a heavy fog at Villers-Sur-Mer. This town is near the mouth of the Seine.

They were forced down 200 yards from the coast, according to advices from the commandant of the flying field at Le Bourget. This message was later confirmed.

It was reported that the flyers were forced down at 5.45 o'clock this morning and proceeded at once to Paris.

Paris Breeches City

PARIS, July 1.—With rain drenching this city and its environs and visibility extremely poor, the actual whereabouts of the Fokker monoplane, "America," with Commander Richard Byrd and his three associates had not been definitely established at 3:52 o'clock a. m. Paris daylight saving time, 10:52 p. m. Thursday, New York daylight saving time this morning.

Reports broadcast that the America had landed at Issy Les Moulineaux a suburb on the southwest of Paris and about five miles from the city had been officially confirmed at Le Bourget flying field and the commandant of the field issued a statement in which he refused to accept this news as authentic in the absence of absolutely official confirmations.

Lost At 1 O'clock

At Le Bourget it is believed that Byrd definitely lost contact with Paris at 1 o'clock this morning. Paris time, when the rain was falling in sheets and visibility was practically nil.

At 2 o'clock this morning the crowd began to leave the air-drome.

Chamberlain and Levine who recently flew across the Atlantic following Col. Lindbergh's first flight continued their vigils however in the hope of greeting their brother flyers.

Believed Forced To Land

Levine who was drenched to the skin declared it to be his belief that the America would be forced to land.

Baby's Heart Is On Wrong Side

PALO ALTO, Cal., June 30.—Physicians were today discussing the strange case of Charles Grimm Minor, 17 months old, whose death revealed that the baby's heart and stomach were on the right side and that the liver, normally on the right side, was on the left. The verdict of the coroner's jury was: "Death from internal disorders brought about by the location of the organs."

Army Aces Are Feted In 'All Hawaii' Celebration

(By Universal Service) HONOLULU, June 30.—Following calls on General Edward Lewis, commander of department of Hawaii, and Admiral John McDonnell today, Lieutenants Lester Maitland and Albert Hogenberger, the "two Linderberghs" of the Pacific, called on Governor Wallace Farrington in company with Colonel John Howard head of the army air service here.

Maitland and his navigator Hogenberger discussed details of their 2100 mile Trans-Pacific flight for half an hour with the governor. They then posed for photographs and chatted with reporters and territorial officials.

Admired Ocean

Maitland said he had wondered before the flight if he would feel nervous with nothing but water under him during the flight. "I forgot all about it when the plane started through the Golden Gate," he said. "All through the day both Hogenberger and myself admired the beautiful water below our ship."

"At night it was pitch black. All through the night the floor below was nothing but a cloud over which we roared at an altitude of 10,000 feet."

800 At Luncheon

A huge floral airplane, a replica of the giant Fokker monoplane in which the army men made their record breaking dash, graced the luncheon table where eight hundred citizens gathered at noon to pay them honor.

This afternoon the army fliers went to Schofield field to take the exact measurements of their over supply of gasoline, oil and other data.

They declared they did not think a single screw or bolt had become loosened during the trip. The engines were running well or even better at the end of their goal than at the start they said.

Colonel Howard said the army was greatly pleased at the manner with which the radio beacon functioned on the trip. He said the troubles that had developed were in reality in the radio receivers and not in the beacon which worked perfectly at all times.

Living to Live

In the New York Times magazine section for May 8 is an interesting article on the world of the ultra-violet rays by one, W. German Kaempfert. The article is interesting in more ways than one, but its chief interest to me is that it shows what I have frequently said: that the social, scientific world which means the commercial world is, as usual, learning the lesson from the sunshine backwards. Sunshine, being a most wholly ignored and a vast commercial scheme, being projected. Therapeutics, obscuring hygiene and the desire for money prevents them from seeing the truth.

The Smartest Thing My Dog Ever Did

They say animals have a sort of danger-dense to human beings. I am now that I was finding my baby into his carriage, propped it up against the fire-front of our house and told Trixie our dog, to mind him. Trixie was in the house then. Trixie was up in a awful howl and the only way to stop her seemed to be to take the baby into the house.

Fifteen minutes after I did this, an angry man came in and told me entirely demoralizing my marriage. I shudder to think of my baby's fate had I not heard Trixie and taken it out of the carriage.

Moscow Has Cure For Addicts Of "Filthy Weed"

(By Universal Service)
MOSCOW, June 30.—A new psycho-hypnotic "Keely cure" for tobacco addicts is causing a stir among inveterate smokers who want to shake off the habit and earn.

The Moscow Health department like the government, is attempting to curb the use of tobacco in the belief that smoking impairs the health and efficiency of the workers. Two clinics have just been opened in the capital. In less than a week 3,000 men and not a few women stormed the physicians and psychologists in charge, begging for a chance to be cured. The applications on file will keep the clinics busy for two months.

The cure is said to be effective, virtually non-medical in character and has as its main object the tilting over of the period of craving for a smoke, which comes just after quitting the habit. Clinicians here feel that the first few weeks are the hardest and if the patient's mind can be detached from a cigarette for that length of time he can control himself.

To Whom It May Concern:
March 11, 1926.

For over a year I had trouble in my gall bladder, pain on my right side, vomiting, and a general run-down condition. On February 23rd of this year I had an attack of Appendicitis, the pain of which was so severe that I could not sleep at night. I came to see the Chew & Chew Herbs and after taking one dose of their herbs I was greatly relieved. I continued to take the herbs for a few weeks and I am all well.

E. B. BULL TO HANDLE FIGHT IN BOND ISSUE

Represented from the city in every activity in the city is E. B. Bull. The question before him is how best to proceed in the fight for the bond issue. There is no question but what he is all in favor of the harbor, the best harbor we have but must dress it up, and to do it takes money. I am now going to call on Mayor Matthe Chandler to say a few words to the citizens of Richmond.

Welcome of Mayor Chandler on behalf of the citizens of Richmond, said Mayor Chandler.

to $50,000. If we provide the facilities for handling a vast additional amount of tonnage, then we can go to the government and ask for a re-survey and that the harbor deepened to 32 feet. When this is done then the cost of maintenance will fall on the government for all times. This will save the city of Richmond $50,000 a year as in the $500,000. We want to get back on the books of the government."

Parr Talks of Growth
Fred J. Parr, manager of the Parr Terminal Company—Roger Babson, the world's authority on business, told the people of San Francisco a few days ago that the world's greatest city in the future would be on the Pacific Coast, and it would be in the San Francisco bay area. This means that the influx to this section of the country will be very great in the next few years, and we ought to take stock, and make ready for the great volume of commerce that is ahead of us. There is no use of dredging unless you provide the most up-to-date terminal facilities so that you can give the best of service. I am for the bonds because they will mean increased wealth to the citizens of Richmond. It's our duty to make this city so attractive that industrial leaders will be glad to locate here.

Just before I came over here this evening I telephoned Mr. Williamson, the attorney for the Ford company, in San Francisco, and asked him if there was any word that I could bring over to this meeting tonight. He replied that he had just received from Longley, the chief counsel of the Ford company in Detroit that the money for the final payment on the land had been ordered sent here, and it was his expectation that the entire deal would be closed within the next two days.

Bull Is Pleased
E. B. Bull, chairman of the harbor committee of the chamber of commerce, is very pleased to see the attendance here tonight. It has been claimed that the industries of Richmond were opposed to harbor improvement but I see here this evening the representatives of the largest industries in our city. With the carrying of the bond issue, and a resurvey by the government, we will accomplish more in the next two years, than we could in any other way in ten years. We have got to show the government that we mean business, we have got to have more wharves, deeper water in our harbor, more transportation, and the industries are sure to follow.

Voices His Sentiments
Attorney Lee D. Windrem expressed himself as being in favor of the bonds provided Parr, would consent to a project being placed in the lease that changes could be made, at any time that the council deemed it necessary. Windrem contended there were provisions in the lease which were contrary to the grant by which the harbor land was ceded to the city.

Parr answered the speaker by stating that the last session of the legislature had given the city of Richmond every particle of title it might possibly hold in the land, and when it became effective in a short time, it would automatically go away with the suit that Mr. Windrem had brought. Parr also held that to permit any council to amend the lease at its will would practically vitiate it, and would do away with the chances of locating industries here.

Campaign Manager Chosen
At this stage of the proceedings E. B. Bull was unanimously elected as bond campaign manager, and the gavel was turned over to him by chairman Renwick.

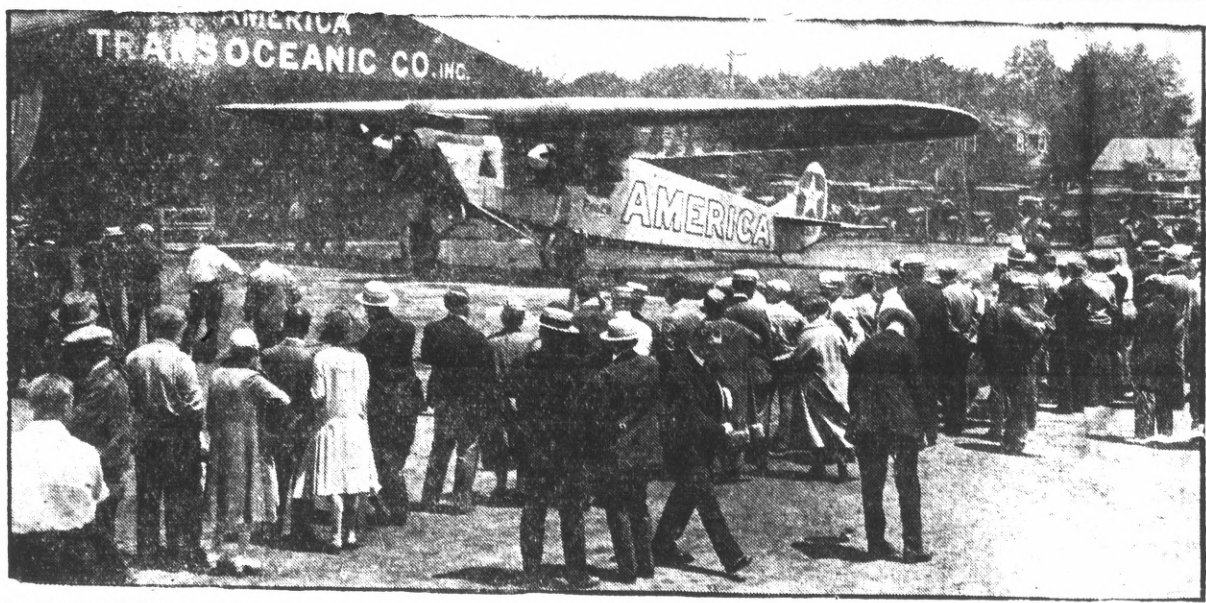

Bull thanked those present for the honor conferred on him and promised he would put forth his best efforts for the success of the harbor bonds.

He announced that he would use the original committee of ten as an advisory committee, but wanted a campaign committee of 11 chosen, which was done with the following results: Harry Ellis, F. B. LaMoine, Mrs. W. H. Sanford, H. A. Johnston, Harry Alberts, Homer Patterson, G. N. Rooker, Ruel Crose, Martin

Hauge, Aubrey Wilson and Mrs. Helen Kingsbury.
Bull Now In Saddle
Bull now took active hold of the meeting and called on a large number of those present for their expressions concerning the coming bond election which will be held August 23rd.

Correct Investment
Harry W. Wenise, secretary of the Richmond Industrial Commission—The harbor and its improvement is the biggest thing that Richmond has on its hands. The city would not be here today if it were not for its harbor, that is why the Standard Oil company and other industries are in our midst. Other industries have decided to locate on your inner harbor, but there has been no depth to the water. You have spent millions of dollars on your harbor, now you should protect that investment. Let's put it over big, and the only way to do it, is by getting out your vote on election day.

Premises Support
Mess. Norma Goettl, president of the Women's Professional and Business club—This meeting has indeed been a surprise to me, and I want to assure you that the vote of every member of the club will be for the bonds, and the votes of as many others, as they can influence.

Builders For Bonds
E. H. Higgins, president of the Builders Exchange—My interests are in this city, I want to see it grow, I am in favor of the bonds, and think I am safe in saying that the members of the Builders Exchange will be 100 per cent strong for the bonds.

Promises Rotary Support
H. A. Johnston—This bond business is a serious matter, it is a big job, it is no easy task, for you must secure a two-thirds vote in order to carry them. I want to say that I am with you to the finish in this fight, and speaking for the Rotary club, can say it is behind the move to a man. I see this matter from a purely business standpoint. Harbor development is going to cost a lot of money but it is worth every cent spent on the project.

To Become Great Terminal
George E. Black, member of the city council, and of the harbor committee. I have listened with a great deal of interest to the talks that have been made here this evening. Just a few days ago I read an article describing the great lunch terminal of New York, and the struggle its founder had when he first launched the project. Today it is the greatest shipping terminal on the face of the earth and I believe that we have the conditions right here to make an even greater terminal. I have every confidence that the taxpayers of this city will put this bond issue over. If they do not, they will set this city back twenty-five years.

Theaters For Bonds
Dan W. Reardon, manager of West Coast Theater—I wish to say that the company owning these theaters are for the bonds. They are one of the heaviest taxpayers of the city, but they believe in progress. The screens of the two theaters of this city are at the disposal of the bond committee.

An Outsider's Viewpoint
J. R. Tracy, a first Trans-Atlantic visitor—I came to listen and not to talk, but want to give you the viewpoint of an outsider. I have always been in development that a city seldom grows in its community. I have known Parr for years, and he has called Richmond to me so much, and has shown me its great advantages, and the possibilities that the future offers, that I have decided to cast my lot with him. My faith in this city is shown by the fact that I have just disposed of my business in San Francisco, provided my employees with other positions, and in the future will devote my entire time to bringing industries to this city, working in conjunction with the Parr Terminal company.

Has Great Faith
Harry Alberts, president of Alberts, Inc.—I have been a resident of your city for the past five years, and I can visualize its growth in the future. When I first located in Mira Vista, I often wondered how long it would be until the city grew up to me, and now I find that I am surrounded on all sides. I want to see Richmond grow and will do everything in my power to aid in its development. A city is simply a business, and we are competing with other cities. We must have additional facilities in order to attract more industries, we must provide accommodations, and be able to give service. If these bonds carry, and I have every reason to believe they will, Richmond will become one of the fastest growing cities in the United States.

Offers His Help
C. C. Kratzer, business man and bank director. It has indeed been a pleasure to me to see the enthusiasm that has been manifested at this meeting tonight. I came to Richmond a few years ago, and what I have I have made here. I have tried to be a good citizen, and I want to help in this bond campaign in any way that I can.

Get The Vote Out
F. A. Martin, member of the council—I am in favor of the bond issue and will put forth every effort to make it a success. The most essential thing in my mind is to get out the vote, and in order to do this, you must carry out an educational campaign. If this is done, I feel satisfied there relatives.

BENSONS TO RUSSIAN RIVER
Mrs. H. Urban Benson and her daughter Kathleen of 231 Bissell Avenue, left yesterday for the Russian river and Monte Rio. They will return with Miss Benson to St. Helena to spend the holidays with her.

Give Vote of Thanks
Just before the close of the meeting Mayor Matthe Chandler suggested that a rising vote of thanks be tendered Dan Reardon, for his generous offer of the screens of the theatre during the campaign, which was done.

Cox and Cooper
Both W. P. Cooper, chief of the fire department, and Dan Cox, chief of the police department, pledged their support to the bonds, and also stated that every member of their departments would work for the bonds.

She doesn't know how you do it

YOU FEEL a little embarrassed and sorry for her. She looks so admiring and helpless, so envious, and so—so—ineffective!

Her clothes are always so bad, poor little thing. And she pays too much for them. Her home is furnished with all the wrong things. She seems to have a genius for wasting money. When she goes out to buy anything, soap or silverware, or lingerie or lamps, she's sure to turn up with something nobody ever heard of before and doesn't want to hear of again.

She is that eager, but not very bright, little woman who, "my dear, doesn't ever read advertisements." Who doesn't know what to buy, or where to find it, or what to pay for it. Who doesn't know values and can't compare them. Who doesn't know that when a new style, or a new convenience, or a new anything arrives, one sees it first in the advertisements.

One really gets a little vexed with her—

But let's not waste too much time on her. It's about time for you, dear lady, to have your daily look through the advertisements.

HEART TROUBLE

Marvelously Relieved

While visiting her daughter here in Oakland, Mrs. W. H. Morton of Stockton was in such great pain due to Heart Trouble that it affected her left hand. She could neither walk nor rest with the slightest effort. All the physicians whom she consulted expressed the opinion that she had not more than ten days to live. She truly seemed to be at the point of death when she took her first package of the Fong Wan Herbs. It was cooked up for her at home, and that night she had the first rest after many weeks of terrible suffering. After four weeks of the Fong Wan Herbs, she was able to return to her home in Stockton. From that city she has sent the following testimonial to the Fong Wan Herb Co.

OWES HER LIFE TO FONG WAN HERBS
Stockton, Cal., March 21, 1927.
To the Fong Wan Herb Co.:
I have been a sufferer with valvular trouble of the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live.

I decided to try the Fong Wan Herb Co., and to the amazement of all who attended me, I was able to walk into their office after taking their Herbs one week. I have not taken them four weeks and I not only have a good heart, but have also been helped in other ailments.

I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herbs, as I owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for his kindness.

S. F. CHICAGO AIR LINE OPEN THIS MORNING

passengers and express, furnishing a cross-continent service.
The Chicago-San Francisco passenger and air mail service was put under way at midnight.
The Boeing company has a fleet of twenty-one planes. An aircraft of sufficient size to carry two passengers and the mail cargo. The personnel of the western division, including pilots, mechanics and hangar employees will go with the Boeing company.

D. B. Collier, former general superintendent of the air mail service, will hold a similar position with the new enterprise. He will make his headquarters at San Francisco.

In announcing details of the transfer today Postmaster General Harry S. New said:

"In building up the transcontinental air mail service the post office department gave night flying to the world and created an organization which, in the language of Col. Lindbergh is the envy of all Europe."

"In turning over to private initiative the enterprise which has been so successful and which required an immense amount of pains-taking care and energy to construct, the department is not leaving its child on a strange doorstep but is pushing it forth toward a greater and more glorious future where it will have the needed opportunity to grow and expand."

any work of the school, villages of peoples in different parts of the world were constructed and painted in natural colors. On one side of the table a village of African negro huts and a few cold white Eskimo huts, hobo-like.

The children of the Methodist church, as well as those of the children in the school and the primary department presented the following program:

1. Pep Songs, by the whole school.
2. "I Can't Trouble Just To Smile," and "Sweetly Sing To Me," by the school.

3. Memory verses by the school.
4. Three pantomimes.

5. Twenty-third Psalm.
6. Play depicting family day in a home where the mother is a nurse.

The primary department's program consisted in presenting a play in which the children, among others, on this program were:

A blue story, given by Albert Simons, and a habit story by Peter Pedrotti. After this, certificates were presented to 48 members of the school for perfect attendance and good work during the term.

Eaton Wallin presiding the exercises.
The school had an enrollment of 200 and an average attendance of 140 each day. The program was closed by a salute to the Christian and American flags.

This morning the school will meet as usual and adjourn to East Shore park for a picnic and track meet with the St. George Presbyterian vacation school.

Water Despised By Paris Wine Tasters

(By Universal Service)
PARIS, June 30.—Inhabitants of dry America may take heart. M. Le Caudenne, winner of a recent contest in wine tasting open to all wine growers in France, was born in Brittany which produces no wine and never tasted anything stronger than cider until the age of sixteen.

Competing with 100 others Le Caudenne, one properly identified twelve different kinds of wine, six red and six white, giving the name and vintage of each.

During the contest, limited to thirty minutes, attendants hesitated to place a bottle of wine before each taster, for refreshment purposes. The water was unanimously untouched.

One contestant was heard to remark: "I tasted it once. That was enough."

Le Caudenne's prize was $200 in cash, much honor and a selection of rare liquors to tickle the palate of a real connoisseur.

"It's easy," said Le Caudenne afterward. "First look at the wine carefully. Then smell it. Then take a sip, testing the 'feel' on the palate carefully before swallowing. Never gulp."

defense statements made by Carmichael and Czekiel at the Richmond police station the day after Mamola's arrest. Mamola's statement that they were in a rooming house at the time of the shooting was made the subject of two statements by Mamola, one pointing and content to the Richmond police station on the day after the shooting.

In one portion of Czekiel's statement it is noted that he said he saw the car at an Oakland dance hall.

"There's that dance hall," Czekiel said, "where I saw the car. It was a dark car, and I saw it on the night of the shooting."

A statement made by Lusk in his statement to the Richmond police station on the day following the shooting of Mamola provided the highlight in evidence. The statement was admitted by Judge Alvarado over the protests of defense counsel.

"Beating Planned"
Lusk related that while the four defendants were at the Maryland dance hall in Oakland, Agrella said Mamola and asked Lusk to use his car in following him because he "wanted to beat him up."

When Mamola and Johnson left the dance hall, the statement declared, the defendants followed in Lusk's machine. Agrella, the statement said, several times urged on the route to Richmond that the dry agent's car be run into the ditch.

"Agrella said he had a grudge against him and wanted to beat him good so he would remember it," Lusk's statement declared.

When the dry agent's car was halted in Richmond, Agrella, the statement says, urged Lusk to "block them so they can't get away." Lusk drove his machine ahead of the officer's car and under a plan held to have been arranged by Agrella, Lusk and Camara advanced to the other machine and accused Johnson of silencing their car. Johnson decided the accusation and stepped for his machine.

Lusk's statement says he did not witness the shooting, but declared Agrella advanced to the car to pull Mamola out. As a shot was fired Lusk's statement says, he heard Agrella shout: "He shot me in the hand" and saw him run across the street with Mamola after him. The final fatal scuffle, Lusk declared, he did not witness.

Five Shots Fired
Lusk's statement said he heard five shots. He declared Johnson pulled a gun and struck him on the head.

In driving away from the scene, Lusk's statement said, he did not turn on the lights because Agrella directed that the car be kept dark. They went first to a home in Oakland and then took Agrella to the Alameda county hospital, where the quartet was taken into custody.

Lusk's statement indicates that Agrella had intimidated accusations of Mamola turning in evidence against an establishment on Forty-seventh avenue, Oakland in which Agrella was interested.

The court sustained the contention of defense counsel that the statement of Lusk was not binding against the other three defendants and could be laid before the jury only for its consideration in the charge against Lusk.

D. H. Kelleher, attracted to the scene of shots, testified that he peered into the automobile of the dry sleuths and found a bottle of gin and a bottle of wine.

Cstend Bartenders Say Yanks Stay On The Wagon

(By Universal Service)
OSTEND, June 29.—According to the bartenders of the most popular cafes and hotels in Ostend, the American delegates to the recent Annual Convention of Rotary International kept pretty close to the water-wagon and did little breaking of their nation's prohibition law.

Lemonade was called for most, and good old-fashioned hot lemonade at that, for the cold winds did blow in from the sea and of course European hotels are never heated after April fifteenth. A few of them looked rather longingly at the wine-biscuits, but were not just sure of what to demand and their pride wouldn't let them call out "ain't you?" or "vin blanc" as the soldiers did.

The ladies made a bee line for the American soda fountain and ate butter-cream sandwiches, raspberry blushes, "Charlie Chaplin" and all the other American confections prepared in the model kitchens of a prominent Belgian "Barley Knight" of Chicago.

He was the first man to introduce American ice-cream to the Belgians and import fruits and flavors.

Landing Made Near Mouth Of Seine As Fog Confuses Aces

have to make a forced landing as it carried only sufficient gasoline for 40 hours flying. However the official vigil at Le Bourget was being maintained at 3:30 a. m. Paris time, search-lights were flashing and flares were being sent up.

Adams Gibbons at Rodman Wanamaker's headquarters at the Hotel Continental discredited reports that Byrd might be proceeding to Rome, Vienna, or other capitals. He thinks that the American already has landed at some remote spot without facilities for communication with Paris.

Gibbons stated that he accepted authentic Byrd's radio at 1 o'clock this morning stating that he was lost in the fog and had just sufficient gasoline for three hours flying.

Rumored In Germany
In the meantime some excitement was caused by the report from Berlin telling of a mysterious motor plane circling over that section of Germany.

The Berlin reports indicated that the Luftwaffe, Germany's great aeronautical company had been unable to confirm any reports of Byrd's landing in the vicinity of Berlin. The dispatches stated that the Luftwaffe had ordered all its flying throughout Germany lighted and had doubled its personnel at all points to watch out for the American and not to let up in any of its emergency measures until the identity of the motor plane had been definitely established.

Miss Mackaye is to appear in Judge Byrd's court Saturday morning for sentence. She faces one to three years in San Quentin. Or, if the court is so disposed, she may get off with six months in the county jail.

"If I've got to take a sentence, I'd much rather stay here," the actress said today.

"I'm going to do everything they tell me to do. While in Rome remember, do as the Romans do. I guess I'll wash dishes; darn socks and sew, but I don't really know yet what they'll put me to doing."

Miss Mackaye's only concern seemed to be for her friend Helen Wilkinson, who has stood by her since the first investigation into Raymond's death began.
